Bridal Shower Idea from Lynne...let's have a PANTRY PARTY!

What is a pantry party? Well, it's a way for the bride to fill her pantry with lots of goodies to include; specialty coffees and teas, spices of all kinds, assorted flavorings for baking, a huge box of chocolate chips both dark and light, all sizes of whisks and strainers, fancy pastas, and don't forget the pasta sauces. Many of these items can be purchased at your local grocery or specialty stores like Whole Foods. If you are creative, make jars of cookie mix ready for her to bake up for her new hubby. Gourmet boxed cookies and candies make easy entertaining for her, as well as gourmet nuts and dried fruits. Lot of these items are expensive for a new bride to afford.

Wrap each item in a pretty sheet of tissue, use lots of different colors, and put them in a beautiful basket that can be used later for decorating her home, now she has two gifts!

As the months pass and she uses these items she will think of you fondly.

Wedding Etiquette...

Fathers of the Bride and Groom

Since the brides father usually walks her down the aisle, it is important that the dads dress similar to the groomsmen, in most case that means a matching tux.

The father of the groom may also dress in more formal attire if he chooses. If there is a stepfather involved in the wedding ceremony, he too, should be dressed in similar attire to that of the groom's attendants. If he will present but not involved in the ceremony, he may dress similarly to the guests.
